Keep medications, medical equipment, passport and travel documents in your carry-on.

Electronics

Don’t forget your tablets, chargers, cameras and travel adapters. All ships have standard 110-volt AC outlets.

What to leave at home

Guests are not permitted to bring the following on board: All illegal narcotics (including medical marijuana and any products containing CBD and THC), alcoholic beverages (except for wine and champagne, see below), firearms, weapons of any kind, ammunition, explosive substances, irons, steamers or any goods of a dangerous nature, nor animals of any kind, except service or guide animals.

Wine & champagne

You can bring wine and champagne on board, subject to a corkage fee. Alcohol from the More At Sea™ package isn’t subject to corkage.

Bring a carry-on bag

Suitcases arrive later on embarkation day* and are collected on the last night of the cruise if you don’t opt for self-assist. Pack a small carry-on with any medications, valuables and important documents.

How many suitcases can I bring on board?

Each guest can bring two checked bags (50-lb. max each). Make sure your luggage is clearly labeled with your name and contact information. Print luggage tags at home from your eDocs. Check airline baggage policies for air travel.

*Suitcases may take up until the evening to be delivered on embarkation day.

Remember to:

- Pack for the destination — Whether you’re headed somewhere warm or cool, packing layers is always a good idea.
- Consider your excursions — Closed-toe and comfortable shoes are essential for any type of shore excursions and sports activities.
- Dress the part — Cruise casual during the day and smart casual in formal dining rooms and specialty restaurants in the evening.
- For the kids — Children 12 and under can wear nice shorts in all our restaurants.
- Dress code reminders — Attire with offensive language or images, tank tops, hoodies, robes, short shorts, torn jeans and caps/hats are not allowed in Main Dining Rooms or Specialty Restaurants.
- Laundry services — Laundry and dry-cleaning are available on board, with express same-day service if needed.

What to expect on day one.

- Online Check-In — Complete your online check-in at ncl.com up to 21 days before your embarkation and no later than 72 hours before sailing (including the e-muster drill).
- Pack a Carry-On — Bring essentials like a bathing suit, a change of clothes, sunscreen and a camera to start enjoying the ship amenities before your luggage arrives.
- Arrival Time — You can choose your arrival time during online check-in. If by any chance you haven’t checked in online, we recommend arriving after 12:00 p.m. and at least two hours before the scheduled departure.
- Keycard — After checking in, you’ll receive your Keycard, which acts as your stateroom key and onboard ID. Keep it handy; you’ll need it whenever you board or disembark.
- Capture the Moment — Start your vacation with a memory. Our photographers will snap your photo, which you can purchase later if you wish.
- Stateroom Access — Staterooms are typically ready for cruisers by mid-afternoon. While you wait, explore the ship or grab lunch.
- Announcements — Listen for any type of overhead announcements about important tasks or fun activities. Please visit your assigned muster station to familiarize yourself with emergency procedures.
- Sailaway Party — Make sure to go to the pool deck for the sailaway party. Bon voyage!

Wrap it up! Your final day on board.

The night before

Your final cruise bill will arrive the night before or the morning of debarkation. You can also review it anytime during your trip using the Cruise Norwegian app.

Customs

In certain destinations, you'll receive a Customs Declaration form to fill out and give to the Customs Officer the following day.

Getting Home

After clearing Customs, head to the designated transportation area for your shuttle or to the parking lot if you drove. Taxis will also be available.

Luggage

On debarkation day, you have two choices.

- 1. Self-Carry: Carry all your luggage off the ship yourself. Remember that you'll need to manage it down the gangway and through Customs.
- 2. Crew-Assisted: Pack your luggage the night before and leave it outside your stateroom with the provided colored baggage tags. The crew will collect it overnight and wait for you in the terminal. Be sure to keep a small bag or carry-on for personal items, documents and essentials.

Frequently Asked Questions

What about special dietary needs?
If you have any food allergies or a dietary requirement, please advise your travel advisor or a Norwegian Reservations Agent. Many of these requests require 30 days' notice prior to sailing, and we want to ensure that we are able to fulfill your request. We cannot guarantee Kosher Meal requests made within 30 days of sail date.

What documentation do I need to bring?
It's important that you provide us with your key personal information (passport numbers, etc.) in advance. Visit ncl.com and complete the online check-in form. Be sure to check with your travel advisor or the appropriate authorities before your trip to determine requirements for inoculations, passports, visas and other mandatory documentation. Cruise refunds may not be issued if you are denied boarding due to lack of proper documents. The U.S. Department of Homeland Security announced an update to passport requirements for U.S. citizens traveling by sea effective June 1, 2009. Since that date, the U.S. Government requires the following proof of citizenship for our guests: For sailings that DEPART from and RETURN to the SAME U.S. port: Guests need proof of citizenship and a government-issued photo I.D. (a valid driver's license with a photo). Proof of Citizenship examples include an original or state-certified copy of a birth certificate, a valid passport, a U.S. passport card, enhanced driver's license, certificate of naturalization, certificate of citizenship or a report of birth abroad.

How do I travel with a disability?
Guests with physical disabilities and special needs will be able to find the right accommodation and environment to suit them. Precautions can be taken to make your stay as relaxed as possible, and all of our ships offer special staterooms for physically challenged guests. More information can be found at ncl.com/about/accessible-cruising.

What is the smoking policy on board?
Smoking is prohibited in staterooms, on balconies and in public areas throughout the ship. If you smoke regular or electronic cigarettes, you can do so in designated areas only.

Are visitors allowed on board?
For security reasons, visitors are not allowed on board.

Is there a doctor on board?
A physician and nurse are on each ship to provide medical care and services at customary charges. Commonly used medications are kept on board and may be prescribed by the ship's doctor. We recommend you check your personal health insurance for full international coverage.

HOW TO PREPARE FOR YOUR CRUISE

Cruise Jargon 101

A few important sea terms to help you navigate our ships.

- A Forward: The front of the ship. (We don't use the word "bow" because it refers to the exterior).
- B Port: Facing forward, port side is on the left. You can remember this because Port and Left both have 4 letters.
- C Starboard: Starboard is on the right side of the ship.
- D Aft: The back of the ship. ("Stern" is the exterior).

Here's your guide to talking the talk while cruising the high seas:

Port of Call — where the ship stops. At each port of call, you can disembark if you'd like and see the sights.

Embark — to board the ship. AKA our favorite time.

Disembark — to leave the ship. We'll miss you!

Shore-Ex — In port, you can feel free to do your own thing or choose from our many Shore-Ex options.

Tender — you may visit some places where docking a cruise ship isn't possible. In that case, you'll be ferried to and from port on a small boat called a tender.

Assembly Station (also called Muster Station) — the designated checkpoint for guests in the unlikely event of an emergency. Your assembly station location can be found on your keycard & your stateroom door.

Gangway — bridge that connects a ship to the dock or pier for embarkation and debarkation.

Cruise Myths Busted!

I'll get bored on the ship

We dare you! With thrilling rides, live shows and an award-winning spa, there's always something new to do (not to mention the spectacular views)!

Cruise food isn't very good

Our Food. Is. Excellent. We offer everything from fine dining to casual bites and a range of global cuisines across 20+ restaurants.

I'll have to eat with strangers on a set schedule

Not on Norwegian! There are no set dining times, assigned seating or required table sharing.

Cruises are too crowded

Our ships are designed with wide-open spaces and more ocean-facing views than any other cruise line.
